Wilson, With Papers Showing Good Service Record in the Spanish War and the Philippines, Caught to Dark Hall After Hard Fight-Equipped for Crime.

William Davenport, or Wilson, as the police now call him, and Joseph Martin, the two men who were locked up yesterday morning after a fierce hallway battle with three policemen, were held for trial in the afternoon in $3,000 bail each at Jefferson Market police court on a charge of attempted burglary. The men are accused of having jimmled the street door of a building at 367 Sixth avenue.

The police learned in the course of the day that the man who called himself Davenport is William D. Wilson, son of the late Alexander D. Wilson, a well known contractor and builder who died some time ago leaving a fortune of half a million dollars. Wilson, they learned, had been living for three weeks in a furnished room at 204 West Thirty-ninth street, where his trunk containing discharge papers from the army and a number of ribbons and love tokens was found. Wilson's mother lives in an oldfashioned brownstone house at 220 West Thirty-fourth street. One of her daughters has been very ill recently and Mrs. Wilson is so broken down in health that the news of her son's arrest has been kept from her. An old servant of the house, when told that the boy was in the Tombs, said that he was a wild lad and would have to shift for him-

From the papers found in Wilson's trunk and from the talk of the servant it was learned that Wilson went out with Company H of the Eighth Regiment at the beginning of the Spanish war and served throughout the campaign. At its close, he enlisted in an artillery regiment and went to the Philippines, where the papers show that he served with distinction.

When the police found a fifty dollar bill on Wilson at the time of his arrest he told them that the money was his allowance for the week. His story was laughed at, but investigation proved its truth and showed that Wilson was not driven to attempt burglary through need.

Policeman Dwyer of the Tenderloin had Policeman Dwyer of the Tenderloin had been watching the two for some time. He sent a small boy for his partner. Jim Murphy, who is new to the Tenderloin, but not to the business of handling bad men, and then dived into the dark hallway. Both men had guns. The one thing that saved Dwyer from being shot was each man's fear of shooting his pal. The cop didn't wait for them to draw a bead on his brass buttons. He tackled the higger of the two. buttons. He tackled the bigger of the two, and down they went together, all over the floor. The big man's pal hekl a light, but that was soon knocked out by the struggling by wrestlers.

Dwyer was getting the upper hand when in came Murphy. The big burglar still gave them both all the trouble they could handle. Detective Keenan, joining the party, counted three and that was "out for the burglars.

In the Tenderlon station Detective the burglars.

In the Tenderion station Detective Drennan, Capt. Cottrell's man Friday, who was sent to look up the prisoners' ad-dresses, said that Davenport's name was Wilson and that he lived at 220 West Thirty-fourth street. He is 28 years old. Martin is 19 and lives at 214 West Thirty-fourth wanted of him was to swear that he shut up the place. Dr. Birkowitz finally did so, declining, however, to cease grumbling. In spite of all the jimmies, pistols and other equipment, the prisoners' pictures are not in the rogues' gallery. The police think that this was their first adventure. They took their arrest coolly.

"I'm sick of the whole thing," exclaimed Wilson. "I wish they'd stand me up and shoot me dead and be done with it."

CHURCH AND LABOR FOLK DINE. President Ellot and the Supreme Court Hauled Over the Coals.

The Church Association for the Advancement of the Interests of Labor-they call it "Cail" for short-had its annual supper at the Tuxedo, Madison avenue and Fiftyninth street, last evening, and it was one of the best attended and most representative reunions the organization, has ever

The Rev. Thomas H. Sill, acting president of "Cail," presided, and seated at the plat-form table were Archdeacon Nelson, the Rev. Frederick Courtney, former Bishop of Neva Scotia and now reator of St. James Church in this city; Canon Chase of the Long Island City Cathedral, the Rev. J. Clay Moran of Lancaster, Pa., Miss Margaret D. Dreier, president of the New York State Woman's Trade Union League; the Rev. Newton Perkins and Miss Harriette A. Keyser, secretary of the association.

A letter of regret from Bishop Potter was read, and then Dr. Sill called upon Archdeacon Nelson, who made a few remarks warmly commendatory of "Cail." The archdeacon said the association had the longest name of any society in New York and that it worthily lived up to every letter, and that it worthily lived up to every letter, every syllable and every word of the name.

Miss Keyser paid her respects to the Supreme Court of the United States and to President Eliot of Harvard University in the course of her short but spirited address.

"Cail worked for years," she said, "to get the working hours of those bakers reduced and at last we got the law through prohibiting employers from making bakers work more than ten hours a day. Then the Supreme Court of the United States, by a vote of 5 to 4, ruled that that law was unconstitutional. Well, what is unconstitutional to-day is constitutional to-morrow. We are not going to stop there with those bakers. We are not going to stop there with those bakers. We are not going to stop there are being criticized a good deal because they sat down to dinner with a certain college president. I needn't mention his name. He is heard from often enough. I say if John Mitchell and Samuel Gompers want to sit down to dinner with him let then do so; What harm is there in it? If your enemy is a-hunger give him something to eat.

"But that college president has taken a new tack. From wanting to abolish trades.

"But that college president has taken a new tack. From wanting to abolish trades unions he has gone on until he wants to abolish organizations of capital. I am afraid if he keeps on he will want to abolish all of us—apitalists and trades unionists and all."

and all."

Dr. Courtney, Miss Dreier, Miss Daly of the Overalls Makers' Union, Thomas G. Gibbons, acting president of the Uptown Dry Goods Clerks' Association, and a number of others made speeches, and Miss Keyser reminded all that the third annual convention of "Cail" will be held in St. Paul's parish house, 136 Tremont street, Boston, May 8 and 8.

We want to demonstrate PRAC-TICALLY what the terms lightness, simple construction, easy control and noiselessness mean when applied to the Rainier.

Guaranteed free of repairs for one year. Price $3,500, with full equipments. THE RAINIER COMPANY

Broadway & 50th Street, New York 'Phone 1001 Columbus

KAISER'S AIM IN MOROCCO

Only to Protect German Trade Interests, Says Chancellor Von Buclow. Special Cable Despatches to THE SUN.

Paris, May 2 .- A representative of the Gaulois interviewed Chancellor von Buelow in Berlin to-day. The Chancellor said:

The Emperor's visit to Tangier must not be considered an act of hostility toward France. The German trade with Morocco is becoming more extensive every day and it was only legitimate anxiety on the part of the Emperor to safeguard the interests of his subjects that led him to undertake his cruise in the Mediterranean. Germany was not taking any unfair advantage. She desires above all the continuance of the fruitful peace which Europe at present enjoys. She is struggling in the economic field to conquer and to hold the place in the world to which she is entitled. She would not think it strange for France to safeguard her frontier when troubles broke out in Morocco, and she has had no other thought than to protect her commercial interests.

"Germany," the Chancellor continued, "should struggle only in the economic field. America, Asia and Africa offer to European nations an admirable field for experiments upon and the solution of the social problem which go with common needs, and they ought to be worked out there in peace, if we do not wish to destroy in a few months a structure which has cost so much time and patience to build. The surest and wisest way of obtaining predominance for German civilization is to procure outlets for her commerce and industry. In contrast with the nineteenth century the present epoch will be an epoch of civilization. The twentieth century will not mark the prosperity of one nation only, but will be the first century of humanity. That is to say, the human race will one day reap the first benefits of a true civilization common to all the peoples of the earth. TANGUER, May 2.-Count von Tattenbach-Askold, the German Minister, and the German mission left for Fez to-day.

WANTS ARGENTINE NAVY.

President Quintana Recommends That One Be Built.

Special Cable Despatch to TER SUN BUENOS AYRES, May 2.—In a message to the Congress President Quintana recommends the Chambers to adopt measures is 19 and lives at 214 West Thirty-fourth street.

In the station house revolvers were taken from both men. Wilson had a jimmy as cleverly jointed as a fly rod. A second jimmy was made like a big tack claw. Wilson's glove lacked one finger to give the man's trigger finger play. A real "yeggman's" bag was hung under the hollow back of Wilson's knee. In this were $50 in bills and a dozen cartridges.

When the prisoners were held for trial the complainant was Dr. W. F. Birkowitz, a dentist. He was a most unwilling complainant. He has an office in the building whose front door was broken open. He told the police that he had shut the door on Monday night and found it open when he returned in the morning.

"Why should I sign your paper or be troubled with your affairs?" he asked the Magistrate. "I didn't see those men break in the door. Besides, they didn't take any of my things."

Magistrate Whitman told him all they wanted of him was to swear that he shut un the place. Dr. Birkowitz finally did so, the place of the provinces, 18,778 in the Punjab, 8,630 in Bengal, 2,548 in the Bombay districts, 968 in Rajputana, 618 in the city of Bombay, 750 in Calcutta and Bombay districts, 968 in Rajputana, 618 in the city of Bombay, 750 in Calcutta and 95 in Rangoon.

> "WALL STREET," SAID SUICIDE No Confirmation of a Report That Young

> Used Trust Funds. MOUNT VERNON, May 2.-The suicide of Christian Young, Jr., a speculator in stocks, who shot himself in a cab here, Monday night, when he found he was ruined, has prostrated his wife and she is under the care of a physician. Cabman Louis Levine, in whose cab Young killed himself, says he met Young when the 9 P. M. train on the New Haven railroad arrived at the Mount Vernon station. "Hey, there, cabby," said Young, "just drive me around for a while; go around Chester Hill. Go anywhere. I want to meet a friend on the 11 o'clock train. Drive anywhere you please." Levine thought the man acted strangely, as there was a glitter in his eyes and he "snapped his teeth as he spoke," but he started to drive his fare around

> At the corner of North Fulton and Prim-At the corner of North Fulton and Primrose avenue not far from the former residence of Cornelius Alvord, Young told the driver to stop. They were then almost in front of Policeman Stafford. Then Levine heard a shot in the cab and jumping from his box opened the door and found Young lying back on the cushions with a revolver in his hand. Policeman Stafford says that Young was still alive, and he said to him:
>
> "Why did you shoot yourself?"
>
> "Wall Street." was all the dying man said, and then he lapsed into unconsciousness. He died before the hospital was reached. As the body was removed a dollar bill, a fifty-cent piece and a slip of paper fell from the cab to the goond. Scribbled on the paper were the following words: "The cabman's fare."
>
> Young lived in a cozy house, 23 South words: "The cabman's fare."

Young lived in a cozy house, 23 South Terrace avenue, Mount Vernon, with his wife and thirteen-year-old daughter. Although a speculator, he was an intensely religious man, a regular attendant at the Mount Vernon Lutheran Church and an intimate friend of the pastor, the Rev. Emil Burg.

Burg.

"H. Sobel, a personal friend of Young, says he noticed that Young had had a worried look for several days and he asked him if he wanted any money, as he would lend him a few thousand, but Young said he expected the market to come around all right. In addition to losing his own money in Wall Street, Young, it was reported to-day, used trust funds. He was trustee of the estate of T. B. Graham, and had an account of some say one for this estate in the Fifth Avenue of T. B. Graham, and had an account of some $60,000 for this estate in the Fifth Avenue $70,000 for this estate in the Fifth Avenue Trust Company. Mr. Sobel was asked if the report of Mr. Young being short in the trust funds was true, and he replied: "All I will say is that the statement that he speculated with the trust funds is a pure lie. That is all I will say."

FOUR LOST IN ICE PACK.

Military Asked to Help Men Blown Off Shore in Boat From Nome. WASHINGTON, May 2.-In response to an appeal by cable from Nome, Alaska, the Acting Secretary of the Treasury has asked the War Department to extend such relief as is possible to four men who were blown off shore in a boat from Nome and who are lost in the ice pack in Bering Sea.

There is no lifesaving station at Nome, although the coast is extremely described. although the coast is extremely dangerous.
The military authorities at Fort Davis, near Nome, have been instructed to take such measures as may be found practicable to save the four men.

EVA SEARCHED FOR HER AUNT

MISSING CHILD TURNS UP IN HAR-LEM, ILL AND HUNGRY.

Wandered From Concord, Staten Island, to South Brooklyn's Wilds-Spent Nights Under Factory Steps (Where Were the Cops?)—Resolutely Kept Dime

Eva Anderson, the eleven-year-old girl who ran away from her home in Concord, Staten Island, last Saturday afternoon to find her "Aunt Mamie, across the water, found her Monday evening. She wandered into the outskirts of Brooklyn and slept two nights in the open air before reaching her destination, the home of Mrs. Jesse D. Anderson, at 305 West 118th street, Manhattan.

Eva is the oldest daughter of Gilbert Anderson, an S. P. C. A. agent of Staten Island. Her mother died when she was 9 months old, so she was turned over to her months old, so she was turned over to her father's sisters to be brought up. She liked them all, but she cared most for her "Aunt Mamie," who was the wife of Jesse D. Anderson, her uncie. She lived with her until her father took her away to Staten Island to live. He had married again and there were little steephers and sisters.

land to live. He had married again and there were little stepbrothers and sisters for Eva to play with.

That was three years ago. Eva, who was a stout girl for her age, helped with the dishes in her father's house and also in the care of the Anderson babies, who increased to four. During the three years she was never taken to New York to see her "Aunt Mamie," who had been so good to her, or to another Aunt Mamie, at whose house in Cornelia street, Brooklyn, she had often been.

had often been.

Last Saturday afternoon the babies and the dishes and the fields of Staten Island became too monotonous for Eva. She quietly went up stairs and put on the plaid dress, blue jacket and red hat with white feather which she always wore on Sunday. She told her six-year-old brother Gilbert that she was "going to Aunt Mamie," and set out. She had 10 cents in her purse, besides the 25 cent plece from her toy bank. She determined to look for her Brooklyn "Aunt Mamie" first.

By car and ferry the little girl reached

"Aunt Mamie" first.

By car and ferry the little girl reached the Battery. Then she took the Thirty-ninth street ferry, because she "thought it was the right one," and then rode in a car, as she says, till she "thought it was about time to get off."

But she couldn't find her aunt's house, nor could she when she had taken another car. When she got off the second time it was dark and she didn't know where to sleep. She sat on the steps of a big red factory until it was quite dark, and then crept under them. The wind blew, it was very cold and she didn't sleep a wink, she says. All the next day she spent watching very cold and she didn't sleep a wink, she says. All the next day she spent watching some boys play in a field near by and others rowing on the water. She discovered that she was near the ferry again, and determined to go to New York to seek her other Aunt Mamie. But there were so few people about that she thought the boat didn't run on Sunday, so she wen' back under the steps that night and tried to sleep again. All day she had resisted the temptation to buy cookies and candy in the shops tion to buy cookies and candy in the shops and had clung to the ten remaining pennies that must take her to her New York Aunt Mamle.

Monday morning, she crept out from under the factory steps and took the first ferry to the city. A Third avenue train bore her to 125th street, which she thought "must be about where aunty lives." Then she wandered about until she reached the house in West 117th street where she rehouse in West 117th street where she remembered having been three years ago. A neighbor told her that Mrs. Anderson had moved to the next street in the same block. So Eva went from doorway to doorway on 118th street between Columbus and Manhattan avenues until she found her aunt's name. Then wearlly she climbed the stairs until finally she reached her Aunt Mamie's arms.

Mrs. Anderson found the child suffering from a heavy cold and ravenous with Mrs. Anderson found the child suffering from a heavy cold and ravenous with hunger. She had had nothing to est since Saturday. Her father was promptly notified of her arrival and after Eva has staid a few days in New York and visited all her aunts she thinks she won't mind going back to Concord and playing "little mother"

WOOTEN PUT IN THE TOMBS. A Long Time Raising $1,000 Fresh Ball

After His Indictment.

One thousand dollars bail, secured on real estate in this county or deposited in cash, was more than Lawyer John Wooten had found yesterday up to 6 o'clock P. M., and he went to the Tombs. He got out just before 10 o'clock P. M., his friends having found a bondsman and got Judge Cowing to accept the bond uptown. Wooten was indicted yesterday on the charge he was arrested on on Monday night, the larceny of $1,000 entrusted to him to pay the premium on the bond given for his client, David Rothschild, as administrator of the Weisel estate, which Rothschild looted.

First he was arraigned before Justice Wyatt in Special Sessions, where he was represented by Abraham S. Gilbert, a law partner of Julius M. Mayer, the Attorney-General. Lawyer Gilbert secured a postponement of the examination until to-day. and the $1,000 bail given on Monday night by Frank H. Platt was continued.

At 3:30 P. M. Wooten was rearrested at 132 Nassau street, having been indicted on the same charge. On the indictment bail could be taken only by a Justice of General Sessions or a Supreme Court Justice. Wooten was apparently deserted by his friends. The only persons that answered his many hurry up messages were small boys. Even Lawyer Gilbert was somewhere else. There was no General Sessions Justice in the building except Recorder Goff, and it was not until he had adjourned the Patterson case and retired to his chambers that Wooten got before a Judge. The Recorder fixed bail at $1,000, but Mr. Platt's bond would not do because it was secured on property in Hamilton county, Wooten sent his group of small boys scurrying in all directions, but no bondsman showed up. Recorder Goff went home, and there was nothing for Detective Reardon to do but to lead his prisoner across the Bridge of Sighs. After his arraignment before Justice Wyatt and just as he was leaving the building, Wooten made this statement: could be taken only by a Justice of Gen-made this statement: made this statement:

"My arrest is an outrage. The charge against me is wholly untrue. I am under strict legal instructions not to talk at this time. I have a lot I would like to say, but I am not going to use my ammunition until permitted to do so by my counsel."

The papers that Detective Reardon seized at Wooten's home are still in the possess of Assistant District Attorney Kresel.

CAR CRASHED INTO COFFINS.

Bronx Grade and Curve Combination to Blame-Passengers Cut; Shop Wrecked.

An eastbound West Farms trolley car got beyond the motorman's control while descending the steep grade on the West Farms road near Green lane last night and approached the curve at that point at such a high rate of speed that it left the tracks high rate of speed that it left the tracks and crashed into an undertaking shop on the corner. The car nearly demolished the place, smashing coffins and hearses and creating a panic among the horses in a stable in the rear.

The motorman, George Mason, jumped as his car left the tracks and was badly hurt about the head. The two passengers, Joseph Lindely and William Moffett, a policeman, both of West Chester, were cut by flying glass. An ambulance was called from Fordham Hospital to care for the injured, who went home after their wounds were dressed. At a late hour a wrecking crew was still making ineffectual efforts to divorce the car from the undertaker's shop.

A similar accident occurred at the same place three weeks ago and the under-taker's place had only recently been re-paired.

150-Variotics

Steel Pens

Sold Everywhere The Best Pens Made

MAYBE IT'S JOHNNY DONAHUE.

BODY OF RED HAIRED BOY FOUND IN NORTH RIVER.

Three Parents Claimed It, but Mrs. Donahue Is Sure It's Her Son, Who Was Said to Have Been Carried Away in the Locked Car of a Freight Train.

Whether the body of a boy found in the North River at the foot of Fifty-fifth street vesterday afternoon is that of Johnny Donahue, last seen in a freight car several weeks ago; of Willie Chalmers, who fell from a dock two weeks ago, or of a lad named O'Donnell who disappeared about three weeks ago and was supposed to have fallen in at the foot of Fiftieth street, s in dispute. Every one of three parents, however, was quite certain for some time yesterday that it was the body of his or her

The three parents were: Mrs. Edith Donahue of 785 Eleventh avenue, Mrs. Chalmers of 537 West Fifty-second street, and the father of the O'Donnell boy.

The body was found by Thomas Brennan of 783 Eleventh avenue early yesterday afternoon. Probably it had been brought to the surface by blasting along the river bank three blocks farther down. It had been long in the river.

Policeman Banks tied the body to the dock and it was there four hours, pending the arrival of a permit from the Coroner for its removal. Meanwhile Mrs. Donahue, Mrs. Chalmers and O'Donnell, notified of for its removal. Meanwhile Mrs. Donahue, Mrs. Chalmers and O'Donnell, notified of the discovery, hastened to the spot and they were soon reenforced by a crowd that s on numbered 2,000. Until the policeman forbade it, they kept turning the body over in the water in the hope that some one of those who knew one of the three boys might be able to find some mark of identification. Mrs. Donahue and Mrs. Chalmers followed the body to the morgue and renewed their

Mrs. Donahue and Mrs. Chalmers followed the body to the morgue and renewed their efforts at identification with no marked success. They were still there last night, each inclined to think that it was her boy. Johnny Donahue has been missing five weeks. Companions with whom he was playing said he climbed in a freight car and that the train started. The police worked on the theory that the boy had been shut up in the car and probably carried up State. Both Johnny Donahue and Willie Chalmers had red hair. Mrs. Donahue, however, is more positive than Mrs. Chalmers that the drowned lad was her son. She knew it was Johnny, she said, from his general features, from his clothing and from the gloves found on his hands. She declared that she would go to the Coroner in the morning and make affidavit of her identification.

"REGULAR" ARCHITECTS WIN. Lamb Ticket Defeated in the League by 108 Votes to 27.

When the result of the Architectural League's annual election of officers was announced last night, it appeared that the regular ticket, headed by Richard Howland Hunt had four-fifths of all the votes. The ticket headed by Julius F. Harder and backed by F. S. and Charles Lamb received only twenty-seven votes; the other

"That simply means," said Arnold W. Brunner, the retiring president, "that the old policy of the club will be continued. That is to say, the league will not be an employment agency for any person or group of persons; it will stand for good art and work for the annual exhibition as heretofore."

heretofore."

According to some members, the Harder party, which was really the Lamb party, sought to deviate from those purely artistic aims.

President Brunner arcse and congratu-lated the league on the result of the election and thanked them for their kindness to him. and thanked them for their kindness to him.
He also congratulated them on sticking to what he called the right rolley.
Former presidents, as, for instance, John Du Fays, Russel Sturgis, H. J. Hardentergh and Robert W. Gibson, came to the meeting especially to cast their votes for the Hunt ticket. George B. Post, A. R. McKim and Lockwood De Forest also came.

Lockwood De Forest also came.

The opposing ticket was put in the field by petition of twenty members, as provided by the constitution. The twenty-seven who voted for it sat in a little group awaiting results. After the announcements F. S. Lamb, the real leader of the opposition, became absorbed in the Scotch and sandwiches which Miss Simpson, the secretary, released for architectural consumption. They also became absorbed in him, so elastic is our idiom. "I have nothing to say," said Mr. Lamb.
"The past policy of the league has been horoughly vindicated," said Karl Bitter, thoroughly vindicated," said Karl Bitter, the new vice-president.

The ticket elected is as follows: Richard Howland Hunt, president; Karl Bitter, first vice-president; Joseph Lauber, second vice-president. Executive committee, class of 1908: Donn Barber, Charles W. Levitt, Jr., and Herman Schladermundt; class of 1907, William M. Aiken; class of 1906, J. Monroe Hewlett.
Arnold W. Brunner, the outgoing president, was elected delegate to the Fine Arts Federation, which is a sort of Chiltern Hundreds in the Architectural League, His alternate is Frank E. Wallis.

DON'T SHORTEN SCHOOL HOURS. Almost Unanimous Voice of Meeting at Hall of Education.

Commissioner Abraham Stern's proposal o shorten the school day for pupils of the first year in the public schools from 5 hours to 3½ hours was discussed in mass meeting in the assembly room of the Board of Education last night.

cation last night.

There were present representatives from the Neighborhood Workers, the Women's Principals' Association, the Normal College Alumnas, the Arion Society, the Public Education Society, the West End Taxpayers' Association, the East Side Civic Cluband the New York Association for the Improvement of the Condition of the Poor. Only one voice, that of Mrs. Mary Magnus, favored shortening the hours.

"LARAN" ANewARROW QUARTER SIZES, 180, EACH ; 2 FOR 850 OLUETT, PEABODY & OO.,

SHANK SHOE Is the Newest Thing in Footwear for Men The steel arch under the instep keeps the foot in place and prevents the shoe frem spreading out of shape. Its style

Should not forget that at our store they can purchase footwear as fine as private bootmakers can produce; and that we can fit their feet better, as we have all sizes and widths, and can even please them better, as we have boots and shoes in all leathers and kids and in all

THE TRUSS ARCH

Price $5.00

lasts. TAN and BLACK, HIGH AND LOW CUT.

and grace are thus preserved and last as long as the shoe styles and forms. Prices from $5.00 to $9.00.

Dressed

Many men prefer comfort above all things in a shoe. After comfort

STANDARD OF MERIT

Gentlemen

OUR U-CAN-B-E-Z

$5.00 Shoe for Men

Meets just this preference. It was designed specially for the greatest degree of comfort and then the style followed. High and Low Cut. Tan and Black.

Cammever's Shoe Specialties for Men TOURIST SHOES, STEAMER SHOES, TENNIS SHOES, SPIKE RUNNING SHOES, GYMNASIUM SHOES, GOLF SHOES, WAITERS SHOES, PATENT GOUT SHOES FOR MEN.

ALFRED J. CAMMEYER, 6th Avenue, Corner 20th St.

PADEREWSKI HERE.

Planist at the Manhattan Hotel-Couldn't Attend Modjeska Benefit. Ignace Paderewski, the planist, arrived in this city from Boston early yesterday morning and went at once to the Manhat-morning and went at once to the Manhattan Hotel. He was too ill to appear yesterday afternoon at the Modjeska benefit. If he is able he will sail on the Oceanio on May 10 and go at once to his summer home in Switzerland.

ANUMA VOTOS BONTANA SHANK

His physician, Dr. Francis E. Fronczak, made this statement yesterday:

"In answer to many queries regarding Mr. Paderewski's condition, I will say that he is improving, although quite nervous and in need of rest after the fatiguing journey from Boston. Mr. Paderewski must take rest for some time."

MEMORIAL TO MRS. GILBERT. Window to Be Placed in Bloomingdale Church by One Committee. The first meeting of the committee on the matter of the memorial to the late Mrs. Gilbert, in which the profession and the members of the Bloomingdale Church are interested, was held at the offices of Daniel Frohman at the Lyceum Theatre yester-It was decided that the tribute should take the form of a memorial window. This committee, of which Reid Moore, president the plan to erect a statue of the actress. GOLF. Stock and Produce Brokers to Play at

of the New Amsterdam Bank, and Daniel Frohman are members is not concerned in

Knollwood. innual handicar will be held at the Knollwood Country Club on Saturday. The entry will include C. B. Macdonald, Daniel Chauncey, A. L. Norris, W. S. Edey, L. S. Kerr, T. H. Powers Farr and many more. There will be prizes for the first, second and third best net scores The entries close with Richard King at 4 P. M on Thursday. Brokers in wheat and corn will also hold a golf tournament at Knollwood, for the Produce Exchange Golf Club has elected Thursday, May 18, for its spring handicap there. Twenty-eight clubs of the New Jersey Golf Association have sent in their lists as re-quested to the handicap committee of which quested to the handicap committee of which Leighton Calkins is chairman, leaving seven defaulters on the scheduled time of May 1. These backsliders are the Country Club of Atlantic City, Arsdale Golf Club, Colonia Country Club, Erwin Park Golf Club, Newark Golf Club, Bidgewood Golf Club and the Westfield Golf Club. There was a notice sent to each of the seven yesterday containing a last call for the ratings under threats of penalties. The M. G. A. list will be out on May 8.

The first of a series of one day tournaments for the members of the Boston Women's Golf Association will be held to-day at the Concord Golf Club. There will be similar tournaments each week until midsummer, except during the week of June 5, when the annual championship will be played at the Brae Burn Golf Club, West Newton. There will be no qualifying round, an innovation to be tried for the first time. The Women's M. G. A. tried all match play for their championship in 1903, but gave it up last year as too dull and slow a method of sifting out the field.

Yale will play at the Hartford Golf Club Yale will play at the Hartford Golf Clubon Saturday, where last Saturday the Amherst Golf Club team lost by 8 to 5. It was the first team match of the season on the course and also for the champions of the New England Intercollegiate League. The score was:
Hartford—W. F. Whitmore, 0: R. H. Hovey, 0:
R. W. Cutler, 8; H. S. Redfield, 8; H. H. Whaples, 2;
E. B. Morris, 0. Total, 8.
Amherst—J. G. Anderson, 1; R. H. Flint, 2; F. D.
Crook, 0; A. M. Rowley, 0; H. Badson, 0; J. M. Clark,
2. Total, 5.

2. Total, 6.
Yale's team had its try out on Saturday at the New Haven Country Club, losing to the home players by 7 to 6. The score:
Country Club—C. H. Zimmerman, 0; R. H. White, 2d, 0; W. Shepard, S. M. H. Mariin, 1; E. Parmelee, 5; I. Lyon, 0; W. A. Rice, 0, Total, 7.
Yale—M. E. Philps, 1; W. E. Clow, Jr., 1; R. D. Cutler, 0; C. T. Truesdale, 0; J. W. Knott, 0; W. E. Marcus, 1; H. F. Swords, 3. Total, 6.

PLAINFIELD, May 2.—The active season began at the Plainfield Country Club on Saturday and despite the fact that the weather was unfavorable there were a goodly number of entries in the scheduled events. Play commenced for the Bolf Committee cup, weekly competition on the point system, and in addition there was play for cups for the best gross and best net scores. Julius E. Erickson, H. D. Hibbard, H. R. Stockton and S. D. Lounsbery won points for the Golf Committee cup. W. I., Glenny returned the best gross score and Julius E. Erickson the hest net score. The leading scores were as follows:

SS, 8-82; W. L. Gienney, Si, pius 2, 83.

Competitions at Baltuerol will begin with the club championship, to be played as usual in the midweek, on Wednesday, May 10. The cup is to become the property of whoever gets three wins on it and is played for semi-annually, at thirty-six holes, medal play, the full date being Wednesday, Oct. 11. A special trophy has been put up for a match between the married and single men and there will be play of some sort each week. The team will play in the New Jersey Golf League circuit and in June, from the 13th to 17th, the Women's Metropolitan Golf Association championship will be held at Baltusrol.

Cotton Spinners' Profit. Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. MANCHESTER, May 2 .- Five cotton spinning concerns, after taking stock, on Saturday declared a profit of 23 per cent, SILVERWARE suitable for Wedding Gifts.

B. Alfman & Co. INVITE ATTENTION TO A SELECTION OF ARTISTIC PIECES, SUGGESTING SUITABLE GIFTS FOR WEDDINGS AND WED-DING ANNIVERSARIES, AND EMBRACING VASES AND AFTER-DINNER COFFEE SETS, FRUIT BASKETS, COMPOTIERS AND LOVING CUPS OF STERLING SILVER, AND DECANTERS, VASES, CENTREPIECES AND CARAFES OF CUT AND EN-GRAVED GLASS, SILVER MOUNTED.

There isn't any one shop in the world with such a tremendous variety as we show-there is no variety to our making-it is ONE way only, that the best tailors and best cutters can produce. We make suits for $20.00 that justify twice as much price. Samples and book of styles upon request.

RNHE

Broadway and 9th St.

DIDN'T PAY HIS ACTORS.

William C. Boyd Goes Bankrupt Owing $13,075 for Salaries.

William C. Boyd, theatrical manager, esiding at the Marlborough Hotel, has filed a petition in bankruptcy individually and as a partner in the firm of D. A. Bonta & W. C. Boyd, recently dissolved, with liabilities $16,700 contracted by the firm in 1004-05, and assets $267, consisting of a debt due $265, and $12 cash in the Commercial Bank of Chicago. Boyd owes $13,075 for salaries to fifty actors and actresses, among whom are Sophie Brandt, $650; Daisy Henderson, $250; Mrs. H. Houghton, $250; Mathylde Preville, $200; Madeline Maillard, $150; Dorothy Williams, $150; Jessie Pettit, $150; Estelle Hill, $150; Peter Redslaw, $150; Gus Malone, $450; Jack Henderson, $400; George Callahan, $400; Gus Vaughan, $400; W. E. Plack, $400, and Charles Stickney, $340. He also owes Kirke La Shelle $2,000 for royalties, National Printing and Engraving Company of Chicago $638, and the Detriot Free Press Printing Company $425. & W. C. Boyd, recently dissolved, with lia-

LADIES FOUR-IN-HAND CLUB. Fourth Annual Parade of the Women Whips to Be Held To-day. The Ladies' Four-in-Hand Driving Club will have its fourth annual parade to-day. At 11:30 o'clock the coaches will start from East Seventy-second street and Fifth avenue and will go through Central Park to 106th street, then over to the East Drive, down through the Mall and back to the Metro-

Excels in Tone "Improves with Use"

Hardman, Peck & Co., Makers. Brooklyn, 524 Fulton St. New York,

THE THOS. J. STEWART CO.

B'way & deen St. N. Y. Phone 376-38th.

Frie & St. Sts. Jersey City.

STORAGE WAREHOUSE AND MOVING VANS.

Write or telephone for interesting booklet.

politan Club, where luncheon will be served. Each of the whips will entertain her own coach guests at luncheon.

Mrs. Thomas Hastings, as president of the club, will be in the lead. On the other coaches will be Miss Jean Reid, Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, Miss Angelina Gerry, Miss Ruth Vanderbilt Twombly, Miss Frederica Vanderbilt Webb, Miss Adelaide Randolph, Miss Louise Gulliver.

The Oppenheimer Treatment

For Alcoholism.

NO INJECTION. NO DETENTION FROM BUSINESS. NO SUFFERING. NO BAD AFTER EFFECTS.

ALCOHOLIC CRAVING OVERCOME IN FORTY-EIGHT HOURS. Endorsed by many prominent men and women throughout the world. (Watch this series.)

Rev. Henry E. Cobb. Pastor West End Collegiate Church, New York, Writes: "I would not send this to you had I not the most implicit confidence in your treatment. It has done for one or two young men of my acquaintance whom I sent to you what I did not believe any power on earth could do."

For autograph letters endorsing the Oppenheimer treatment, cut out this coupon and malifichthe

OPPENHEIMER INSTITUTE,

159 West 34th St., N. Y. C. DOWNTOWN OFFICE:

BROOKLYN OFFICE:

(2) Name.....

Address.....